

Beware Mr. Officer, Tread Carefully Novel

Chapter 51 To 55

---

Chapter 51: Until We Meet Again, Officer

The criminals left on the boat reacted quickly and started shooting at Tang Jinyu's speedboat.

"Cover me!" Tang Jinyu commanded his subordinates.

"Roger!"

"Roger!"

As his subordinates helped him with covering fire, Tang Jinyu sped up his speedboat and jumped onto the cargo boat.

After dealing with the people outside, Tang Jinyu ran into the cabin of the boat.

But there was no one around.

Online FREE Novels

www.onlinefreenovels.com

Tang Jinyu furrowed his brows. Did they run away?

Feng Yi came in quickly after. "Boss, did they run away?"

Tang Jinyu didn't reply as he went down to the lower deck.

"W-What the heck?!" Fang Yi stared in shock at the two main culprits tied together on the floor. Their mouths were stuffed with rags, and their faces were somewhat swollen.

It was apparent that they were beaten up.

Feng Yi pulled out the makeshift gags from their mouths and asked: "Who tied you both here?"

They only shook their heads in confusion.

"Boss, who could it have been?"

Tang Jinyu swept his gaze around the cabin as his eyebrows knit together again. What person could take care of these two so easily?

“Feng Yi, get rid of all the evidence!”

After Tang Jinyu gave his orders, he left promptly.

One of his subordinates came down and blinked in confusion at the scene. “The heck?”

Feng Yi shook his head. “No idea, just take them away.”

***

Tang Jinyu went back to the set as quickly as he could, and by then, the crew had already started to clean up.

Tang Jinyu asked a random crew member: “Did Ms. Jian have any scenes tonight?”

“No, she left early in the afternoon.”

Hearing their words, Tang Jinyu turned around and left.

He arrived at the hotel and climbed into Jian Qi’s room swiftly, and just as he did, the lights were switched on. He quickly backed away and hid outside the window, using the curtains as cover.

“Now that you’ve eaten, go get lots of rest. Don’t go buying junk food in the middle of the night!” Coco warned. “I’m going back. Call me if you need me!”

“Understood, Sir Coco!”

As soon as Coco left the room, Tang Jinyu flipped back into the room.

Jian Qi turned around and pretended that she was shocked. “Why do you keep on climbing into my room at midnight? Do you want to scare me that much?”

“Where did you go?” Tang Jinyu asked, his cold gaze staring at her as if wanting to probe her for the truth.

“I just finished dinner. Why?” Jian Qi asked calmly. “Weren’t you going to start your operation today? Did you get it done so quickly?”

Tang Jinyu wanted to check if she was lying, but she seemed to be completely truthful!

“Are you sure you only went eating after leaving the set?”

“Are you accusing me of something, officer?” Jian Qi giggled. “Did I do something I wasn’t supposed to? Or are you just here because you wanted to see lil ‘ole me? If you wanted to see me, you could’ve just said so instead of barging in like this.”

Tang Jinyu stared at her for another minute, before turning towards the window again. “Alright then.”

“Are you not going to come on set anymore?” Jian Qi asked.

“Yes,” Tang Jinyu replied, not continuing to make a move.

He thought she would follow up with some more banter, but she seemed to have just asked that on a whim.

Tang Jinyu then left through the window into the night, as if he was never there.

Staring at the window, Jian Qi smiled.

Until we meet again, officer.

Chapter 52: I Really Do Know Taekwondo

Tang Jinyu got his subordinates to check, and it was indeed true that Jian Qi had just left to have dinner with her manager until the duo returned to her hotel room that night.

As for who had tied the two criminals up, it was still a mystery!

On the second day, Qiao Bo’s manager and assistant had both been changed, shocking everyone but Jian Qi.

Coco was worried that Jian Qi would be sad that her Romeo left and that she would do something unimaginable, but she was calmer than anyone on the set.

This calmness continued until all Jian Qi's scenes were shot successfully.

On her last day on set, the director informed that this drama would be aired alongside its shooting, so it would have its premiere broadcast next week.

After Jian Qi left, Coco arranged fewer schedules for Jian Qi because he knew that she only had a little more than a month left for her to prepare for her exams.

***

"Isn't that Jian Qi?"

"Why is she back? Wasn't she supposed to be shooting for a drama?"

"Who knows, maybe she's just here to keep up appearances. She doesn't look like she's back here to study, anyway."

"Remember how Acting Emperor Qiao helped her clear up her rumors? Who knows what she did to make him help her."

"And the incident with Chu Yuhan too, didn't she say that Jian Qi framed her? Apparently, Jian Qi got some thugs to beat her up too!"

"Who knew that Jian Qi was such a person? You wouldn't be able to tell from looking at her!"

During this time she wasn't at school, it seemed that the rumors surrounding her only grew.

She knew Qiao Bo's influence, so she didn't mind the rumors about them, but...she got thugs to beat Chu Yuhan up, they say?

She had almost forgotten this person after a whole month!

Back at the dorms, she realized that Chu Yuhan had returned to their room.

The two other roommates weren't around, and only Chu Yuhan was there on her phone. Seeing Jian Qi, she furrowed her brows and finished her current call quickly.

Jian Qi immediately noticed the ugly bruise on her face. It seems those people did a number on her last time!

It had almost been a month and she hadn't recovered completely.

Chu Yuhan glared at her angrily and shouted: "Jian Qi, I've always thought of you as a friend! I never thought you would set me up like that!"

Ignoring the unreasonable rants of the other, Jian Qi took her textbooks and prepared to leave.

"You stop right there!" Chu Yuhan grabbed her arm. "Jian Qi, you better tell me the truth. Did you trick President Zhang into believing that you know taekwondo? Is that why he beat me up like that?"

Jian Qi quirked an eyebrow lazily and smiled elegantly. "I do know taekwondo, why don't you give it a try?"

Chapter 53: I Want to Dazzle A Certain Someone!

After saying so, she swung her fist at Chu Yuhan, scaring the latter so much she tumbled back into a sitting position.

Retracting her fist, she fixed a cold gaze at Chu Yuhan. "Leave me alone!"

After that, Jian Qi left for the classroom immediately.

Looking at her silhouette, Chu Yuhan gritted her teeth in frustration.

Even though President Zhang had been arrested, she didn't dare to tell the police about what he did to her truthfully. She knew that he would be able to get out of jail quickly because of his background and relations with people in high places. Chu Yuhan was just a student, and even though she had been casted in several dramas, she had only played some insignificant roles. She knew that President Zhang would be able to cut her off from advancing in the industry in the future like crushing an ant.

She wanted to reconcile with him, but he requested that she deal with Jian Qi before they could.

These days, Jian Qi had always been on set so she hadn't had the chance to, and now that she had finally returned to school, Chu Yuhan thought she finally had the chance.

That was what she thought, until she was mercilessly crushed by her in a few seconds.

She couldn't even fight back!

Jian Qi arrived at the classroom, and her desk had been moved to the back corner of the classroom because she hadn't been present for quite a while.,

She sat down nonchalantly, not minding it.

As the bell rang, all the students returned to the classroom.

Chu Yuhan entered the classroom and sat at Jian Qi's original position, glancing at Jian Qi mockingly for some childish reason she couldn't comprehend.

For a week, Jian Qi attended classes as she normally would.

That Friday, Coco sent her a message asking her out for dinner and to watch the premiere of King of Guns. After all, she had a few scenes in the first episode.

Hearing how excited he was, Jian Qi knew what he was thinking right away.

He probably wanted to convince her to continue acting if she was well-received by the general audience.

That night, Jian Qi sat down on the carpet with several stacks of trial exam papers and reference books, the very image of a student engrossed in studying for her exams.

"Baby, I'm touched! I never thought you could be so hardworking!" Coco couldn't help but gasp in amazement.

Jian Qi would study occasionally in the past, but he never saw her like this before!

Jian Qi pushed away several stray strands of hair from her forehead with her pen and smiled. "Either I don't do it, or I do the best I can! I want to dazzle a certain someone, after all."

A certain someone?

"Who?" Coco smelled the telltale scent of juicy gossip. "Baby, are you in love?!"

"Reporting to Sir Coco, I'm still a girl!" Jian Qi did a mock salute in response to his question.

Coco didn't believe her and furrowed his brow. "Are you still in cohorts with that pretty boy assistant?"

"Nope!" Jian Qi replied immediately.

Just as Coco was about to breathe a sigh of relief, Jian Qi continued, "But I'm looking forward to dazzling him for sure!"

Coco didn't know how to respond to her sudden statement.

"Which reminds me, which school are you applying for if you aren't going to a film academy?"

Jian Qi smiled self-assuredly and opened her laptop to search for pictures of the school she wanted to apply for, as well as the introduction for it, before handing the laptop over to Coco.

"Look, here it is."

Coco took over the laptop and froze in place.

Chapter 54: Don't Get Beaten Up!

The National Defense Academy?!

"Are you kidding me?"

Coco couldn't believe what he was seeing and continued, "It's not that I want to burst your bubble, but Bolin High School is renowned as an arts school! Almost everyone from there goes into arts-related universities!"

"Even students from Han High School, one of the most prestigious high schools in our country, can't get into that academy easily! Aren't your goals too high?"

To his question, Jian Qi only smiled. "That difficult, huh?"

"Of course! Every year, not more than five students from Han High School get to enter this academy, not to mention the arts-focused Bolin High School!"

"There has never been a graduate from Bolin High School that has met their standards!"

"Then I'll be the first." Jian Qi smiled as she looked at the computer. "I'm going to get into this place no matter what!"

Jian Qi nodded and smiled. "Of course. Why would I be studying like this if I wasn't? I'm confident that I would be able to get in anyway, but a little studying never hurt anyone, no?"

Seeing how confident she was, Coco thought that he should try and dissuade her some more. After all, it wasn't an academy that the average student could get into willy-nilly.

The student would need to excel in both academics and also extraordinary physical ability.

"Baby, don't get yourself beaten up with that frail body of yours!" Coco couldn't help but add on.

Jian Qi stifled a laugh. "Look, your precious drama is going to start."

Coco sighed at the girl's attempt to change the subject and directed his attention to the television.

The first episode ended quickly, and by the end, Coco was practically glued to the screen from Jian Qi's brilliant performance.

Staring at the screen, Coco muttered, “Baby, I think this will be your big break.”

“Ah, that’s nothing out of the ordinary!”

Coco was speechless.

Could she be any more narcissistic?

“I’ve been on the sidelines for so long, it’s about time!” Jian Qi said calmly.

Actors prided themselves on their acting skills, but the director could always cut the shooting off whenever they made a mistake.

For her, it was always a matter of life and death. After all, there wouldn’t be any second chances; failure would be equivalent to death!

Coco looked at her. “You weren’t even trying to be humble there, baby.”

Jian Qi only smiled. It wasn’t that she wasn’t humble, but she had said that it was a gift for him and she would make it a surprise for him for sure!

And as Coco guessed, Jian Qi blew up on the internet.

After the first episode finished airing, the hubbub around Jian Qi’s performance was only second to Qiao Bo, and the two of them even made it onto the top of the trending page together.

Qiao Bo’s acting was unquestionable, but when Lady Kao appeared in the drama, everyone was amazed by how Jian Qi brought the character to life.

Even though Lady Kao was part of the red light district, her mysterious and dignified aura shone through.

Her performance was definitely better than the main female actress’!

Jian Qi was quite calm about it, but Coco’s phone continued to ring nonstop after the premiere of the drama, with endless offers for Jian Qi to attend interviews and shoot commercials...

Overnight, Jian Qi’s net worth and popularity rocketed!

Chapter 55: Little Tang Tang, You're Here Too!

On the last day before the exams, the teacher allowed the students to study on their own.

To calm their nerves, the teacher asked everyone in class about the universities they wanted to apply for.

There were only a few renowned acting academies, so everyone's choices were more or less the same.

"Jian Qi, which university are you applying for?" a boy in front of her turned around and asked.

Everyone was curious, so it attracted the attention of the teacher. She was worried about Jian Qi because she had spent so much time in the last three months on set for her drama. Her grades even before that weren't very outstanding, and she was worried that it would have only gotten worse in these days.

But judging by her current fame, she would probably be enrolled regardless.

"Jian Qi, which university are you going to apply for?" she asked Jian Qi with a smile.

www.onlinefreenovels.com

Now that all the gazes in the room had been attracted to her, she couldn't even brush it off anymore.

"The National Defense Academy," replied Jian Qi calmly.

Her words plunged the classroom into a deafening silence

"Jian Qi, I never knew you were one for jokes," giggled another girl. "Now tell us the truth."

Everyone heard this and laughed too, before Jian Qi's cold voice rung again. "I wasn't joking."

"What a joke!" Chu Yuhan scoffed. "A certain someone thinks that she can get into the National Defense Academy just because she's a little popular right now. From your grades, you wouldn't even be able to get into a mediocre university without going through the back door!"

This was actually what everyone thought in secret, including the teacher.

The National Defense Academy was one of the most prestigious military universities and not just one the average student could enter on a whim.

From every angle, it wouldn't be something that a student from Bolin High School would be able to achieve.

Jian Qi ignored all this and continued to study because she knew that it was what everyone thought.

The best way to have it be a smack in their faces would be by getting that admission letter!

Seeing the atmosphere become charged with tension, the teacher quickly changed the subject. "Since everyone has their own goals, start dashing for them tomorrow! Good luck and have faith in yourselves, you can do it!"

After the exams ended two days later, Coco asked Jian Qi upon her coming out of school, "How was it? Did you do well?"

"It was fine," concluded Jian Qi in a mere three words.

"Then would your grades be able to reach the baseline for the National Defense Academy?" Coco felt that he needed to give her some preparation just in case.

"Of course."

Her confident reply didn't even leave any space for him to comfort her!

"Alright, then let's go celebrate your admission!" Coco smiled.

***

In the VIP karaoke room, Coco kept on singing while Jian Qi calmly ate her snacks.

Coco's phone rang, and Jian Qi held it towards him while shouting, "It's for you!"

Coco continued to sing as he glanced at the caller ID. "It's from Acting Emperor Qiao, go fetch him, yeah?"

Jian Qi sighed in exasperation. Who was the star of the show here, anyway?

She took the phone out of the room and accepted the call.

"I'm here, Coco. Which room are you in?"

"Hey, this is Jian Qi. I'm coming to the entrance now, so you wait there." Jian Qi made her way quickly outside.

Seeing Jian Qi, Qiao Bo smiled and handed her a present. "Congratulations on finishing your exams."

"Thank you," replied Jian Qi with a smile, and they returned to the karaoke room together.

"Why are you here?" asked Jian Qi curiously.

"Coco said that there was going to be a party to celebrate and he invited me here," replied Qiao Bo with a gentle smile.

"Well let's continue this conversation later..." Jian Qi moved to push open the door, but she noticed that there were too many people.

Sweeping her gaze around the room, she paused and blinked. She had led Qiao Bo to the wrong room!

"Sorr-" Before she could finish apologizing, a man's mocking voice rang out. "Oho, if it isn't the great and mighty Acting Emperor Qiao? I thought that such a lowly place was beneath you, Your Highness."

Jian Qi wasn't happy hearing this and was just about to fight back before she saw the person sitting in the corner, making her crack a smile.

With a wicked smile and a teasing tone, she said, "Little Tang Tang, you're here too!"